The above price list includes our standard and most common Products and Services.

Additional or Alternative Products and Services may be required, and prices may change from time to time due to the specific location that services are provided or due to changes in our supply chain required to ensure the provision of services.

Our customers will be notified in advance wherever possible of changes to Products, Services and Prices, but due to the nature of Telecommunications Services having an extensive supply chain this may not always be possible, particularly if charges are applied after an event and from up the chain, but we will endeavor to ensure any charges are fairly applied before being passed on to our customers.
